THE SOLDIERS BONUS BILL

(That the readers of this paper may become thoroughly familiar with all the facts connected with the co-called Soldiers' bonus bill. The Herald will publish a series of articles by Don Belding, setting forth the various features of this measure that the people of the state will pass judgment on next month. It should be fully understood that under the loan feature of the measure, the money is simply loaned to the boys; that it is advanced only up to 75 per cent of the value of the property in which it is invested and that it will be paid back, with interest, under the amortization plan provided in the bill. A thorough understanding of the new line provisions of the bill means the removal of any serious opposition to it.)

The bonus bill on the ballot as (302 YES) will put into circulation in Klamath county an estimated total of $600,000 before January 1, 1922 and between $100,000 and $200,000 between January 1 and June 1, 1922.

In Klamath county there are approximately 410 ex-service men and women who are eligible for either the cash bonus or the loan feature of the bill. A recent canvass by the local Post of the American Legion indicates that more than 90 per cent of those eligible will eventually take the loan. Presuming that only 200 men are in a position to take advantage of the loan feature and secure the maximum amount, $3000, Klamath county would greatly benefit by the putting into immediate circulation of $600,000. Many of these men are already purchasing lots upon which to build homes since the bonus loan feature carries a provision whereby money is advanced to ex-soldiers having homes in the course of construction. Many more of the service men will use the borrowed money to improve farms and to purchase farms. Service men who already own at least $4000 worth of property, (less than 5 per cent) will probably use the borrowed money to enter business or to turn over at a higher rate of interest and thereby profit.

The increased home building and farm improvement would mean a new era of prosperity to the people of Klamath county, and the whole state of Oregon.

FIELD MARSHALL PAID HOMAGE

POTSDAM, Germany, June 1. — The affection and admiration which German people still entertain for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg was manifested by the throngs who gathered to attend the funeral of the Empress Augusta Victoria.

The German princess passed virtually unnoticed through the crowds but wherever the popular Field Marshal went there was a murmur of admiration which frequently swelled into prolonged applause. Even the Communists, who could be distinguished by their remarks, were silent before Von Hindenburg, although they spoke loudly about "tin soldiers" as other high officers passed. There was an amusing incident when the "hero of Tannenberg" arrived before Wildpark station, where the services for the princess were held. As he descended somewhat heavily from an automobile, the great string of medals about his neck was disarranged.

A silk-hatted, white-whiskered man and a policeman rushed to rearrange them and met head-on. The silk hat was dislodged and rolled upon the pavement, and the policeman stood in a daze.

In the meantime half a dozen officers in full dress of generals had gathered about the "old man of the Masurian lakes" and carefully arranged the medals, while others helped the Field Marshal put on his high, tasseled cap, which he had been

IN MEMORIAM

By DAVID ELSWORTH

Fifty six years have passed and gone
Since our boys came marching home,
Bearing the flag they so nobly saved,
Fifty thousand strong.

They faltered not nor did they fear,
To answer their country's call,
But left their homes and volunteered,
On the battle fields to fall.

They loved their country, home and friends,
They loved their lives as well,
But they thought not of themselves alone,
Though by sword and shot they fell.

So they marched away their flag to save,
With spirits light and gay,
Though they knew that many would never return,
But would go the narrow way.

Where are all our boys, who so nobly arose
To answer their country's call,
To suffer the hardships and perils of war,
That their flag should not totter and fall.

Some of them lie in graves unknown,
Some of them 'neath the sea
Some of them lie up there on the hill,
And but few are left to see.

But our country has not forgotten the debt,
That it to these brave men owe,
So it declares one day in every year,
Its gratitude to show.

And on each thirtieth day of May,
When the flowers are fresh and bright,
We deck the graves of those that fought,
For freedom and for right.

We look through the ranks, our old soldiers to see,
As the line comes marching by,
Then, we know well soon read all the names,
On that banner that floats in the sky.

IDLERS DO NOT WANT TO WORK

"There are jobs for men who want to work," stated an employer of both skilled and unskilled labor for the nearby mills and logging camps of this section yesterday to a reporter for the Herald, "but the trouble is, there are a number of men who prefer not to work at the prices that are offered."

"One man who, last winter, laid around and did nothing, told me that he 'mooched' over $1,100 from loggers and mill men, and gloried that he had got away with it. For the past week, men have been needed for railroad grading, section work and other labor here and the local men would not take the jobs, so it was necessary to import labor from Sacramento. Twenty men came in Monday night and twenty more arrived Tuesday from that place, yet there is complaint from local unemployed that there is 'no work here.' The railroad work has been on logging roads near here and of course, some of the men thought that the wages offered were too low for that class of labor, but the men in Sacramento were eager to come at the wages offered."

Between 700 and 800 men have been employed this spring and are at work in nearby camps and logging centers, the employer said, and conditions will be better a little later on when all the operators begin to log on an extensive scale.

Restaurant Worker Jailed; Two Charges

James M. Eastman was arraigned late yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace L. L. Gaghagen upon two complaints, one filed by Mrs. S. DeCoster, who alleges that Eastman passed a check on her which was refused at the bank, and the other upon the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, in which Eastman is alleged to have had J. Pospisil endorse a draft upon a woman in Seattle, which was later returned.

Bond was fixed by Judge Gaghagen at $500 in the Pospisil complaint and $250 in the DeCoster action. Eastman had been employed in local restaurants.

Weather Probabilities

The Cyclo-Stormograph at Underwood's Pharmacy recorded a fairly constant pressure since last report, standing at about 30.20 since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

This is in the "fair weather" zone, therefore no marked change may be expected.

Forecast for next 24 hours: Continued fair and warm.

unable to wear in the confines of his closed car.

When Von Hindenburg appeared at the station to depart, the streets for many squares were packed with excited crowds which raised a tumultuous cheer and again and again, until the train was out of sight, the "hoche" resounded from thousands of throats.

A short time previous, Prince August appeared on the station platform and was received with a few lifted hats, but without cheers.

MAKES HIT IN COLLEGE PLAY

"Nothing But the Truth," produced by the University seniors recently at Eugene, was a rollicking comedy that according to one Eugene paper, "smashed all records for amateur performances and made the average road show look like tent vaudeville in comparison."

Both Eugene papers pay high compliments to the acting of John Houston, a Klamath student, who, as Bob Bennett, had the leading male role, and also directed the production. Here is one extract:

Time after time the action of the play had to be slowed down while the audience got in a few good roars at Johnny Houston or Marion Gilstrap, both of whom proved themselves in a class all their own when it comes to handling comedy.

Much credit for the unusually successful production goes to Johnny Houston, who not only coached the entire cast, but who carried the burden of the comedy on his shoulders.

And here is the other: John Houston, as Bob Bennett, the man who bet ten thousand dollars that he could tell the truth for 24 hours, brought down the house time after time with his keen acting.

COUNTY COURT

The county court met late yesterday afternoon and transacted county business, approving salary warrants and general accounts. Court adjourned until Saturday.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire

Here Is the Chance You've Been Waiting for:

During the month of June you can get The Herald at the SPECIAL ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION RATE. Here is the rate that will be in force during the month of June:

The Evening Herald one year by carrier $5.00
One year by mail $4.00
To subscribers outside Klamath County $5.00

This rate is good for one month only, and will not extend beyond June 30, 1921. Under the law it is necessary to have all papers paid for in advance, and all subscriptions not renewed by July 1 will, under this rule, have to be discontinued.

It was not our intention to put on a special rate this year for the reason that the increased cost of publication did not justify any reduction. Today it is costing to publish The Herald three times what it did two and a half years ago. During the past year there has been no reduction in the cost of anything entering into the production of a newspaper and many items have advanced.

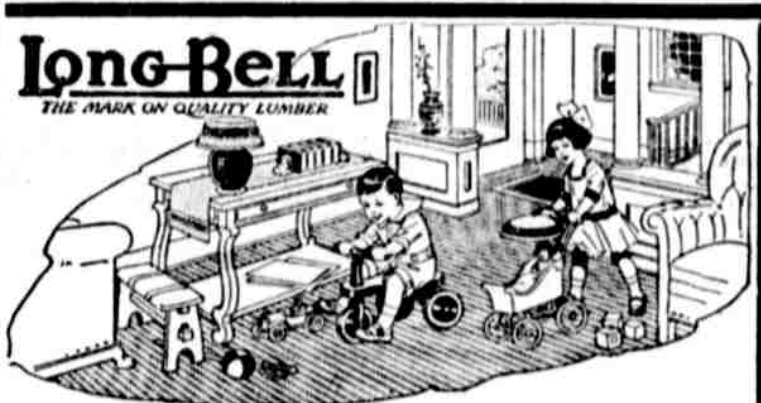

However, in view of the general depression prevalent, we feel that we should do nothing to increase the burden even a little. Hence we have decided to make the special offer again this year. We shall appreciate it if those desiring to take advantage of this offer will do so as early in the month as possible to relieve the great amount of clerical labor that will naturally come at the end of the special offer period.

Navy Bill Passed; Carries $494,000,000

WASHINGTON, June 1. — The senate today finally passed the navy appropriation bill, carrying about $494,000,000 and including the Borah amendment which requests the president to initiate a disarmament conference in which Great Britain, the United States and Japan would participate.
